COVID Flowchart:

- We updated the divisional flowchart for how to respond to symptoms of COVID19 based upon a letter from Prairie Mountain Health. We see now that there is some confusion about what happens when you don't get a test.
- The clarification is as follows - If you call Health Links and they say that no test is required, you may return 24 hours after symptoms go away. However, if Health Links advises you to get a test but you decline it, you require 10 days isolation. One references the lack of need for a test while the other speaks to a test refusal.
